“The vendors I like to work with are the ones who understand the importance of producing the best event possible for the client; the ones who are positive suggestions that will enhance the event; and, the ones who are conscientious about line item charges, no matter how small or large the budget. Classic Party Rentals is this type of vendor. Classic Party Rentals provided more than was contracted for and to say we were pleased with their product and service would be an understatement. They are definitely our vendor of choice.”
